Corporate Overview

In late 2015, the Company implemented a strategy to pursue and investigate a new paradigm being created in the mining sector to complement its Spanish mineral assets and current business model.

In December 2015, the Company acquired Mineworx Technologies Inc., who has developed the HM X-tract, a unique, patent-pending, portable, heavy mineral extraction process and an innovative new business model for the gold and precious metals mining sector. Mineworx operates as a 100% wholly owned subsidiary of Iberian Minerals.

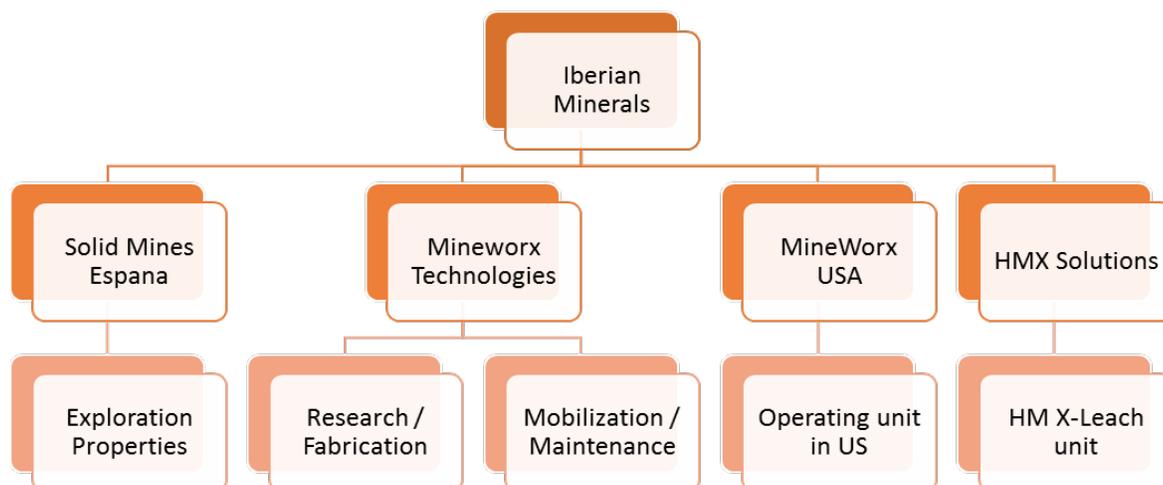

The Mineworx unique business model is to seek out advanced-stage mineral deposits on which to employ its portable processing technologies, and to partner with the existing owners and operators to advance these deposits to profitable production in a timely and cost effective manner. The model offers operators accelerated production timelines, lower cut off grades, reduced infrastructure, shorter permitting periods, improved market valuations, lower operating costs, lower environmental impact and lower economic risks.

The unique, integrated water clarification and filtration technologies allow operators to recycle most of the process water used at a typical mine site. This conserves water, minimizes environmental discharge and significantly reduces or eliminates the necessity for tailings ponds.

During 2016, the Company developed an environmentally friendly lixiviant product (HM X-leach) and created the company HMX Solutions Ltd. to commercialize the development of HM X-leach solution.

As a result of these actions the Company revised the corporate structure as detailed in the following table, which includes the primary role of each of the entities:

Overall Performance

Considerable time has been spent sourcing and evaluating future alluvial and hard rock deposits, primarily in the southwestern U.S. Through this process we were able to sign an agreement to operate the initial patent-pending, environmentally friendly, portable heavy mineral extraction unit (HM X-tract) for alluvial deposits, on the Vulture Peak mine site near Wickenburg, Arizona.

In June, the first HM X-tract machine was mobilized to the Vulture Peak site. Setup and calibration to maximize efficiencies for this particular deposit continue with the expectation of gold production occurring in Q3. All of our mine site employees have successfully completed the MSHA (Mine Safety and Health Administration) regulatory requirements.

The second generation HM X-tract unit for hard rock deposits is currently being fabricated and assembled in the Coquitlam, British Columbia fabrication/assembly plant and will be ready for mobilization late in Q3. A patent application on a crushing component of the HM X-tract hard rock unit, named HM X-mill, was submitted. This can be a stand-alone crushing unit or a component within the hard rock HM X-tract system.

A new lab facility, also in Coquitlam, is working in two areas: mine site data analysis pertaining to present and future HM X-tract operations; and secondly, an environmentally friendly lixiviant product (HM X-leach) that will be competing directly with cyanide applications for gold and precious metal processing. A patent application for the solution was filed with the United States Patent and Trademark office.

Activity is slowly and methodically advancing the Spanish assets. All necessary documentation to increase the size of the Cehegin iron ore concession has been submitted. As well, the work necessary to submit for a work/drill program permitting was completed.

The legal assessment on the Aroche Wollastonite project was completed and are awaiting acceptance of the revised offer. Once accepted the necessary permitting steps will be undertaken to advance the project towards production.

Financial results

For the six months ended June 30, 2016, the Company incurred a net loss of $1,476,199 compared to a net income of $307,683 for the six months ended June 30, 2015. The net loss is a result of increased spending on wages, administration, and project investigations as compared to the gain record on the sale of the Alberta-1 property in 2015. These increased costs are a result of the planning work that is continuing to bring the technology acquired in the Mineworx transaction into commercial production.

Corporate activity was greatly increased in 2016 over the same period in 2015 and this is reflected in the increased spending in Management and employee costs $383,721 (2015 - $143,250), Office and general $174,971 (2015 - $138,019), and Professional fees $126,806 (2015 - $38,408). Director fees and Financing costs were both reduced to $nil from $38,557 and $17,029 respectively in 2015 due to the retirement of the debenture and changing the board membership.

Share-based payments of $21,437 was for unamortized options granted in 2015 as no new options were issued during the six months ended June 30, 2016. The $289,197 in 2015 related to the 4,350,000 options issued in June and February.

$281,572 in Amortization was charged in the six months ending June 30, 2016 (2015 - $nil) related to the equipment and technology acquired in the Mineworx transaction.

Foreign exchange loss was $641 for the six months ended June 30, 2016 from a foreign exchange loss of $60,397 for the six months ended June 30, 2015. The exchange rate changes are due to fluctuations in the Euro and US dollar in 2016, while only the Euro in 2015.
